AB 921, as amended, Jones. Private investigators: Disciplinary Review-~~Committee~~. Committee: licensure.

The Private Investigator Act provides for the licensure and regulation of private investigators by the Bureau of Security and Investigative Services within the Department of Consumer Affairs and requires the Director of Consumer Affairs to administer and enforce the act. The act authorizes the director to deny, suspend, or revoke a license if the director determines, among other things, that any provision of the act was violated by the licensee. The act also authorizes the director to impose a civil penalty of no greater than $500 instead of suspending or revoking a license issued under the act for the violation of specified provisions if the director determines that the imposition of the civil penalty better serves the purposes of the act. The act requires an application for a license to be verified and include certain information, including, but not limited to, the full name and business address of the applicant.

This bill would require the Governor to appoint a Private Investigator Disciplinary Review Committee, and would authorize the Governor to remove any member of the committee for misconduct, incompetency, or neglect of duty. The bill would require the committee to perform certain functions, including affirming, rescinding, or modifying all appealed decisions concerning administrative fines, or denial, suspension, or revocation of licenses, as specified. The bill would require the committee to notify the appellant in writing, by regular mail, of the committee's decision within 30 days of that decision. The bill would also authorize the appellant to request a hearing, as specified, if, among other things, the appellant disagrees with the committee's decision regarding the appeal. ~~The bill would make the above provisions operative on July 1, 2017.~~ The bill would require that all evidence used by the bureau be provided to the committee prior to hearing an appeal. ~~The~~ The bill would make the above provisions operative on July 1, 2017.

This bill would also authorize an applicant to, at his or her discretion, include a valid email address on the application.

Existing law requires an applicant, or his or her manager, for a license as a private investigator to have had at least 3 years' experience in investigation work. Existing law requires an applicant to substantiate the claimed years of qualifying experience and the exact details as to *the character and nature thereof by written certifications from the employer, subject to independent verification by the Director of Consumer Affairs as he or she may determine.
